Petroleum V. Nasby.

D. R. Locke, Pet roleum V. Nasby (Editor "Toledo Blade,") writes:

I had on a forefinger of my right hand one of those pleasant pets, a "run-round," The finger became inflamed to a degree unbearable and swollen to nearly twice its natural size. A friend gave me Henry's Carbolic Salve, and in twenty minutes the pain had so much subsided as to give me a fair night's rest, which I had not had before for a week. The inflammation left the linger in a day. I consider it a most valuable article for the household.

CURES THE FILES TOO.

Edouard Reintard, of New York, writes:

It gives me great pleasure to say that a single box of Henry's Carbolic Salve effected a complete cure of Piles with which I had been troubled for over a year, and which nothing else that I had used would cure.

Pleasant Remembrance of Courtestes. Many educators will always remember with interest the visit of Miss Loizillon and Miss Couturier, commissioned by the French minister of public instruction to study education in this country. F. Buisson, director of primary schools, writes from the ministry to Gen. Eaton, sending thanks for the kind reception given these ladies and for the attention shown them, and desiring to reciprocate if a commission is sent to France; and Hon. Jules Siegfried, mayor of Havre, also sends special thanks for the kindly reception. Miss for the kindly reception, Miss for the kindly reception. Conturier met with during her journey through the United States. Miss Loizillon through the United States. Miss Loizillon, the inspectrice generale, writes that she has been ill for a time, but has at last fluished her report, and says: "Although returned to France, and happy enough to be here, I often cross the seas in imagination and see again your beautiful country. I can recall the minutest details of everything that impressed me there—the places I saw, the schools, and above all the people whem I met, and for whom I entertain a grateful recollection. Be kind enough to speak of this to all those I met who have not forgotton me."

Let the Policeman and His Pistol Be Regulated.

A lady of humane feelings and humanitarian principles told a REPUBLICAN reporter yesterday that the policeman and his pistol yesterday that the policeman and his pistol should be regulated. A few days ago one of the guardians of the peace was called upon to shoot a horse which had its leg broken, and on account of his ignorance of anatomy and the use of firearms was compelled to fire a half a dozen balls into the already suffering beast before causing death.

The shooting of a citizen who was riding in a street ear a few days ago, instead of a rabid dog, is still another case of stapidity and dog, is still another case of stupidity and want of pistol practice. Another citizen said the police are well versed in the use of the club, without any drilling, why not teach them how to use their revolvers without endangering the lives of the citizens whose lives they are not paid to take. A few nights ago an officer shot at a suspicious character who was trying to evade arrest by running, and came very near striking a brother officer who had come to his assistance and actually who had come to his assistance and actually had the man under arrest when the second shot was fired.
